

THE GAP SWIGGY LEFT OPEN

Swiggy delivers the cinema’s own popcorn.
NotiFetch delivers your entire food court.

Swiggy’s new Order-in-Cinemas serves exactly one kitchen: the theatre’s own counter. NotiFetch is the multi-vendor platform — every food-court stall gets its own live menu, kitchen console and settlements, while your venue earns a commission on every single order.

Swiggy and Zomato charge their food partners 25–30% commission on delivery. We built our rate to undercut that on purpose.

Why earlier attempts failed — and how we fix it

THE FAILURE

Cinemas never authorised outside runners.

THE NOTIFETCH FIX

The venue earns a commission on every order and formally authorises NotiFetch runners past ticket check. We arrive as your revenue partner — not a stranger carrying food.

THE FAILURE

Messy food in dark auditoriums.

THE NOTIFETCH FIX

Menus are restricted per venue: dry, theatre-safe items only, packed in sealed spill-proof boxes. Housekeeping rules are built into the product, not promised afterwards.

THE FAILURE

Stalls had no technology to take orders.

THE NOTIFETCH FIX

Each stall gets its own kitchen console — live ticket board, accept-to-ready flow — plus weekly settlements and a per-stall earnings dashboard. They say yes because it is their menu and their money.

How it works

1

Scan the seat QR

Printed QR at every seat, zero app install.

→ 3

Pay online

Razorpay checkout, UPI or card.

→ 2

Order from any stall

One cart across the whole food court.

→ 4

Runner brings it

Delivered to the seat, timed to the show.

What your venue gets

A new revenue stream on food you never cooked

Commission on every order, with zero investment and zero staff burden on your team.

Full visibility, honest settlements

Live dashboard: every order, every stall, every rupee — with scheduled per-stall payouts.

Cinepolis-level seat service, without the crores

The luxury experience big chains spend millions building — live at your venue in 7 days.

The first-mover window is open now

Swiggy only covers the biggest chains. Your venue gets the same experience first, with the whole food court attached.

See it live right now

Scan the code — or open notifetch.in on any phone. Order the ₹2 chai at seat A-1 and watch the ticket land in the kitchen console in real time. The demo is a fully working venue: menu, payments, runners, settlements.
